OVERALL MORNINGSTAR RATING™ ★★★

As of 3/31/24, Institutional Class shares rated 3 stars among 46 Foreign Small/Mid Value funds, based upon risk-adjusted returns derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with 3-, 5- and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Ratings metrics.

The Morningstar rating is for the Pzena International Small Cap Value Fund – Institutional Share Class; other classes may vary. For each fund with at least a three-year history, Morningstar calculates a Morningstar Rating™ based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a fund’s monthly performance (including the effects of sales charges, loads, and redemption fees), placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. The top 10% of funds in each category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. (Each share class is counted as a fraction of one fund within this scale and rated separately, which may cause slight variations in the distribution percentages.) As of March 31, 2024 the Institutional Class shares of the Fund were rated 5-Stars and 2-Stars against the following numbers of Foreign Small/Mid funds over the following time periods: 46 funds in the last three- and 40 funds in the last five-years. © 2024 Morningstar, Inc. PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

Non-US small cap markets rose modestly in the quarter, driven primarily by company and industry-specific dynamics. Investors began to internalize less aggressive rate cuts in Europe, the potential for rate hikes in Japan, and general progress on improving efficiency across the board. The Pzena International Small Cap Value Fund performed well in this environment, starting 2024 outpacing both the broad market and value indices.

Our positive relative returns in the Quarter were driven by our financials exposures, as well as our underweight to the real estate sector which was negatively impacted by higher interest rate expectations. Consumer discretionary was also a source of strength as a variety of self-help initiatives in the portfolio began to bear fruit. Information technology was the key detractor for company-specific reasons.

Reflecting these broader themes, our top contributors were European banks BPER Banca and Unicaja Banco, with both benefiting from a higher interest rate outlook, while each company displayed strong earnings growth with the potential for higher capital returns going forward. UK motor insurer Sabre was again a key contributor, as the company has been able to take price and market share in the non-standard auto market, consistent with our thesis.

Our biggest detractor was ams-OSRAM, with shares plummeting on the cancellation of their microLED partnership for the Apple watch. While disappointing, we initially underwrote the investment on the core earnings power from the legacy sensor and lighting businesses, which generate significant free cash flow. We took the opportunity to add to our position after additional diligence.

During the quarter we were relatively active – initiating positions in Elders, an Australian agricultural products provider, Hays, a specialist IT staffing business, Sawai, a leading Japanese pharma manufacturing business, and Ibstock, a UK brick manufacturer. We funded these purchases by exiting six positions that had largely performed well: HankookTire, Subsea 7, Toho Holdings, BAM Groep, Forterra, and DB Insurance.

We continue to find compelling, company specific opportunities across a broad range of sectors and geographies, and we are encouraged by the progress we see in our portfolio companies.

Price / Earnings (1-Year Forecast) is a measure of the price-to-earnings ratio (P/E) using forecasted earnings for the P/E calculation. Price / Book is a valuation ratio of a company's current share price compared to its book value. Median Market Cap is the point at which half of the market value of a portfolio is invested in stocks with a greater market cap, and consequently the other half is invested in stocks with a lower market cap. Weighted Average Market Cap is the average firm market capitalization weighted by security weight. Normalized P/E is a ratio that measures a company's share price relative to Pzena's estimate of what a company earns across a typical business cycle. Return on equity is the amount of net income returned as a percentage of shareholder's equity.

MSCI World ex USA Small Cap is a free float-adjusted market capitalization weighted index, designed to measure the equity market performance of smaller capital stocks represented across 22 of 23 Developed Markets (DM) countries* (excluding the United States). The MSCI World ex USA Small Cap Value Index captures small cap securities exhibiting overall value style characteristics across 22 of 23 Developed Markets countries (excluding the United States). The value investment style characteristics for index construction are defined using three variables: book value to price, 12-month forward earnings to price and dividend yield. One cannot invest directly in an index.

Mutual fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. Investments in small-cap companies involve additional risks such as limited liquidity and greater volatility than larger companies. Investments in foreign securities involve political, economic and currency risks, greater volatility and differences in accounting methods. These risks are greater for investments in Emerging Markets. The fund may have emphasis on a specific sector which could adversely affect a fund to a greater extent than if its emphasis was less. The Fund emphasizes a "value" style of investing, which targets undervalued companies with characteristics for improved valuations. This style of investing is subject to the risk that the valuations never improve or that the returns on "value" securities may not move in tandem with the returns on other styles of investing or the stock market in general.
